Dear [Mr./Mrs./Ms.] [Manager's Name],

This email is in regards to my interest in applying for the (POSITION) recently posted on (website). With my skill-set and competencies I am more than able to investigate several forensic examination processes and monitor security systems for multiple fortune 500 companies.

While pursuing an Associate Degree in Information Security and Digital Forensics from Trident Community College, I have developed skills in reverse engineering, computer forensics, networking and information security. This knowledge has enabled me to operate in Windows and Linux platforms and master multiple security principles.

I started my career as an Information Security Intern with Chicago Government in May 2011.

Working under the direction of senior members, I monitored the overall security of the system and investigated likely loopholes. Utilizing my academic and professional knowledge, I dedicated two years with Technology Smart while working in the capacity of Network Operations Center Monitoring Technician. Here I gained an opportunity to work in a Datacenter environment, improve existing documentation systems and implement stringent measures to improve the overall network security.

I currently work as a Security Operations Center Security Analyst with Security Professionals Inc., where I have been able to further strengthen my technical acumen. I have attached my resume highlighting my academic and professional skills and look forward to hearing from you in due course.

Sincerely,

MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Photo Courtesy: Tamara Malesevic/EyeEm/Getty Images When the global coronavirus pandemic hit in 2020, many people were forced to abruptly cancel their travel plans, hoping it would only be for a short time. As the duration of lockdowns and quarantines stretched on, the travel industry took a hard hit. Once the restrictions finally began to lift, socially distant outdoor activities were deemed safer than other options, prompting stir-crazy people to look ways they could enjoy themselves outdoors. A During the lockdowns, tourism to Africa grew as potential travelers wondered if it would be safe to finally go on their dream safari to the Serengeti Plain or another wildlife-filled African destination. A luxury African safari gives adventurers an opportunity to get up close and personal with some of the most majestic creatures in the world on their home turf. It¢ÃÂÂs a thrilling, one-of-a-kind experience, and you would mostly be outdoors ¢Ã but does that actually mean it¢ÃÂÂs safe during a pandemic? Here¢ÃÂÂs what you need to know about the impact the pandemic has had on the safari industry? When the pandemic hit the world hard ¢Ã and caught everyone off guard ¢Ã in early March 2020, many safari companies had to abruptly halt operations. As countries around the world remained on lockdown through the rest of the spring and into early summer, the safari business virtually came to a complete stop. Despite the challenges, the owners of safari companies didn¢ÃÂât give up hope. Photo Courtesy: Ghislain & Marie David de Lossy/The Image Bank/Getty Images While some companies did offer refunds, many quests chose to postpone and reschedule their safari trips for later in 2020 or farther out into 2021. Although these delayed safaris are certainly better than outright cancellations for safari companies, those bookings are taking up future slots that could have gone to completely new bookings. Additionally, some people who would have traveled in the coming months are still too intimidated to book trips. As a result of these issues, the industry is still in a tight spot. If you do decide to travel abroad during the pandemic, be aware that not all countries are to visitors from foreign nations. Some Países, such as Botswana and Seychelles, have imposed restrictions at different points that prevent non -residents or those of a particular nation to enter the country. It is important to thoroughly investigate travel notices and restrictions for their destination before doing any plan. Quarantine polyics, which often require that anyone entering the País be auto quantine for 14 days, can also be in force in some países. Photo courtes: Martin Harvey/The Image Bank/Getty Images These polytic ones can "and probably change over time and could even change suddenly. Even if you get everything clear when booking, ensure to verify the updates of policy and procedures until your exit. Once you arrive, be sure to have a plan to stay at the day with the news for the updates that could occur while traveling, both those related to your destination for some reason, talk to your travel agent or reserve agency. They should be able to provide updated information about travel restrictions, the number of current cases of COVID-19 in The destination and information related to the reprogramming of your travel plans, if necessary. Keep in mind that it is possible that it Covid-19 cases. However, most of the prohibitions begin to prevent the virus from spreading because travelers bring it to the country. If you are from the United States or other paas that has been particularly beaten with virus cases, you may not be allowed to enter some countries, even if your borders are not completely closed. Are you willing (and able) to stay 6 feet away from anyone you can contact on your trip with? When you return home from your trip, are you willing to stand up for 14 days to make sure that you do not pass the virus to anyone else in your home or community? If you cannot answer all these questions with a sure yes, then you are advised not to go., obese or has a chronic lung condition, heart disease, kidney disease, diabetes or any other condition that compromises your immune system, you are advised to stay at home. Note how many other people are likely to be with you in the safari and the conditions when making a decision. If you are travelling, do not forget to continue following best practices to prevent the spread of coronavirus. Wash your hands frequently or use the hands-on disinfectant if you cannot reach soap and water and avoid touching your face. Keep your face covered with a mask when you are in public and cover your mouth if you sneeze or cough when you do not wear a mask inside. Definitely avoid indoor spaces full of people with poor ventilation, as these types of spaces have been related to the propagation of the coronavirus. How has the pandemic affected the prices? Good news starts with cheap flights that are likely to remain that way for the foreseeable future, although finding flights to locations that are not in demand can be a challenge. In addition, the strong loss of tourist money across the African continent, nearly $55 billion in three months, according to some estimates, means that many vacation opportunities can cost much less than normal, including safaris. In addition to discounts, you're likely to see a freeze on 2020 prices, as well as more flexibility when Courtesy: Luis Davilla/DigitalVision/Getty Images MORE FROM QUESTIONSANSWERED.NET Contrary to popular belief, there are actually many ways to start a business that let you focus less on the logistics and upfront costs and more on getting your ideas started. Design and sale of printing t -shirts on demand Another dropshipping model, the printing imprisonment puts inventory, shipping and compliance in the hands of a third -party provider. But unlike the Business idea dropshipping above, the approach here is the personalization of products with their own design to create something original. T -shirts, hats, telism covers, hoods, skirts, tote bags and more become fabrics for creativity. You can think of ingenious slogans for developers or references that resonate with cat owners - if there is a potential business business that you can find one who to work with using freelance sites such as Fiverr, Upwork, Dribbble or 99Designs. With many printing services on demand, you are paying for product, so the base price per unit will be expensive that if you were going to ask for bulk. But the advantage is that if a t-shirt mockup templates so you don't need to spend extra money on a complete set of photos for each new design. The search for perfection can be one of the biggest obstacles to running a business. Note that nothing is found in stone. The products can be changed and exited quite easily (especially when not trapped with stocks). Your store can be redesigned. Your prices can be adjusted. You can switch to a better supplier. And you can validate all these decisions based on the dozens of signals you have at your disposal (traffic, how long people spend on your site, reviews, abandoned cars, etc.). If your idea just doesn't work as planned, think about how it can swing before you quit. There are aspects of your own business that accumulates on social networks or on its email list can be active that reuses for your next business idea.
